

Global Education Office

SPRING 2025 GLOBAL INITIATIVES MASTER CLASS SERIES: Global Engagement Strategies

Preparing Globally Ready Learners

February 6, 2025

11 a.m. - 1 p.m.

Student Commons - Virginia Rooms C-D

This master class will help prepare faculty to be more intentionally global in their classrooms so that learners acquire the skills, knowledge and attitudes they need to be successful in our interconnected world. Rather than adding on a new and separate global dimension to teaching, faculty will be encouraged to consider how global perspectives and pedagogies can advance existing course, professional and disciplinary goals. Global learning will be framed as an imperative for public institutions whose missions are to serve communities, locally and globally.

Hilary Kahn

*Associate Vice Chancellor for International Affairs
Indiana University Indianapolis*

About the facilitator:

Hilary Kahn is an inspirational leader in the field of international education. She has held national and international roles including past president of AIEA, Executive Committee of CII with APLU, and inaugural member and chair of the National Academy of International Education. She has published widely and is an in-demand speaker and scholar not only in higher education internationalization and leadership but also in the academic disciplines of Anthropology and Global Studies. Professor Kahn is the associate vice chancellor of international affairs at Indiana University Indianapolis and associate vice president of international affairs for Indiana University.

View more information and register for the workshop at global.vcu.edu/master-class-series/